THE LATEST

Convention Meets and Adjourns.
National Associated Press to the Star.
HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—The Convention assembled at 12 o'clock; Chairman Hoyt calling it to order.

Hon. A. M. Brown, of Allegheny, was elected temporary chairman, which was claimed as a victory by both the Cameron and Blair men.

After the appointment of the usual committees on platform and organization the Convention took a recess until 2 o'clock.

Capture of Crazy Horse.

National Associated Press to the Star.
CAMP ROBINSON, NEB., Sept. 5.—Crazy Horse, who escaped alone in the direction of the Spotted Tail Agency, was captured at that place last night.

Factory Burned.

National Associated Press to the Star.
NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The sand-paper factory of R. J. Wardell & Co., Brooklyn, was burned today. Loss, $25,000. Firemen report a severity of water.

WASHINGTON.

Bad for a Missionary.

National Associated Press to the Star.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The Rev. O. P. McManis, recently convicted of murder in the first degree, in New Mexico, is the same man concerning whose indictment certain persons here made statement to reflect upon the character of the Government and other prominent individuals in that Territory. Mr. McManis was a Missionary and was mixed up in some proceedings at Chihuahua, New Mexico, which resulted in the lynching of several persons.

The Israelites of Turkey.

Information has been received at the Department of State that a delegation from the Jewish residents of Smyrna, headed by their Grand Rabbi, waited upon the United States Minister to Turkey during his recent visit to their city and tendered through him their thanks to the Government of the United States for its solicitude for the Jewish people in the Ottoman Empire, as evinced in the recent instructions from the Department of State, of which they seemed to be fully informed, and for which they appeared to be sincerely grateful.

American National Vessels.

The United States Minister to Turkey has communicated to the Department of State the intelligence that the United States steamers Vandalia, stationed at Constantinople, and —, stationed at Smyrna, were ordered by the officer in command of the European squadron to change stations. The passage of the Vandalia had to be effected by both vessels simultaneously. This was accomplished without hindrance or delay, the vessels passing each other on the 9th of August and arriving at their respective stations on the 10th. The Minister states that the American National Vessels are objects of great popular favor everywhere.

From Alaska.

The Secretary of the Treasury has received the official report of Capt. J. W. White, of the Revenue Marine Steamer Corwin, dated Sitka, Alaska, August 11, 1877. After speaking of the distillation of liquor by the natives, details of which have already been published, Capt. White says:
"After diligent inquiry and careful observation since our arrival here, I have not discovered any breach of the public peace, nor has my attention been called to any particular acts save a few petty trespasses committed by Indians, half-breeds and white men as well. The Indians, ever thoughtful, are now preparing for winter use.
"The half-breeds are rather shiftless, and have insatiable cravings for strong drink, squandering all their summer earnings to obtain it, and will, I am afraid, suffer for food this coming winter. The great desire of all with whom I have conversed, seems to be that the Indians should be made to understand that the Government has not entirely abandoned the country to them, and that its presence here should be represented by an armed vessel or the return of troops. I would here respectfully suggest the propriety of having an armed vessel visit this place and the principal Indian villages in the archipelago every two or three months, as that of itself would have greater restraining influence over both whites and Indians, and tend to the better enforcement of the laws and preservation of the Republic than by stationary troops at this point.

"Carrying out this view, I would respectfully inform the Department that after becoming satisfied that our station here will be no longer required for the proper enforcement of the laws for the time being, I shall proceed to visit some of the principal villages and Fort Wrangle, thence to Fort Townsend, W. T., where I shall leave Pilot Keene and report to the Department. Excursing my best judgment at all times for the benefit of the Government, I have gathered from the best data obtainable, the statistics of the population of this place, which is about 1,300 or 1,500 white men of various nationalities, claiming to be Indian citizens, 5 full-blooded Russians, including the priest and about 270 half-breeds, including men, women and children. The Indian population varies from 300 to 1,500, according to the season.

"The priest informs me that the half-breeds are a low, degraded class, over whom he has no influence, and that more danger is to be apprehended from them when drunk than from the Indians themselves."

Fifth Tennessee District.

The question of appointing a successor to Collector Cliff of the Fifth District of Tennessee, has been postponed until after the return of the President from his Western trip.

NEW YORK CITY.

Arrested and Sequestered.

National Associated Press to the Star.
NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Eli B. Weston, brought from Chicago as a witness against Nelson H. Gessner in the recent bond forgery, was sequestered on inbound car and returned and committed to bail on a civil suit brought by a Chicago coachmaker.

The Workingmen's Party.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—In the Executive committee of the State Workingmen's Assembly last evening every district was represented. It was unanimously resolved to place an independent candidate in the field for every district in the county. The question of admitting with the existing organizations was fully discussed, and it was resolved that the Committee confer with all labor organizations in their respective districts.

All communications, under any pretense whatever, with any political organization, was strongly repudiated.

The organization is hopeful of electing many of its own representatives to State and municipal offices. Encouraging reports were received from all parts of the State.

Not Yellow Fever.

Dr. Vanderpool, Health Officer, states in regard to the case of yellow fever reported from the New York Hospital Sunday last, that in his opinion it was not genuine yellow fever.

He thought that bilious fever frequently resembled yellow fever so strongly that many doctors, unless they had great experience in yellow fever cases, might err and the two.

Vanderpool also said he had seen the Health Officer of Fernandina, Florida, who had stated to him that there were no cases of yellow fever in his district.

THE KENTUCKY LYNCHING

Further Particulars of the Mob Executions at New Castle.

Special to the Star.
NEW CASTLE, VA. EMINENCE, Sept. 5.—So secret and excruciating were the movements of the masked band that enacted the horrible tragedy in this town yesterday morning, that there is little to be added to the account hastily sent you yesterday.

The four victims now lie stiff and ghastly in the very room where they were arraigned at the bar of justice one week ago. Some time to-day the remains of the three Goodriches will be taken to Lockport for burial.

Jim Simmons, the late King Jim, will be buried at the public expense. His wife and two sons fled the county last evening, going to Illinois. Carter and James are over in the river hills, and were not interred. Fears of a rescue of the prisoners precipitated their summary execution.

The Sheriff gives the following account of what he saw: "About 1 o'clock I was awakened by loud knocking at my door, and I hurriedly went down, and was confronted by a body of about fifteen or twenty men.

"They pointed pistols and guns at me and told me to get the key of the jail and go with them. When we reached the jail they commanded me to open the door, and I did so. They then rushed in, and there some forty or fifty men rushed into the jail and at once took possession of the prisoners, and tied ropes around their necks and led them out.

"On the way out Sam and Joe Goodrich said, 'I am innocent; no blood of any man is on our hands.'"

"The mob said in response, 'If you want to pray, get at it!' Sam then said, 'Will you allow me to send some money to my mother?' They said 'Yes.' He then handed me about $40. They then proceeded out of the door and down the street."

Going to the jail, your correspondent interviewed the prisoner, Marshal Roberts, who was in the jail when the mob entered. He said: "The mob, coming in, took possession of me and tied me by ropes to the bed. I told them that they were mistaken; that I was not who they were looking for. They took candles and looked in my pockets, and then they said, 'This is Roberts.' They left me tied and went after the other prisoners. On their way out Sam, Goodrich said: 'Oh, Lord, have mercy on me.'"

Wm. O'Brien, a merchant of the town, said that about 1 o'clock he was awakened by knocks at the door, and on going to it he found four masked men with pistols in their hands, which they presented at him, saying, 'Go with us.' He went with them, they going to his store. They there told him that they wanted one hundred feet of the best rope that I had. I measured it off. They paid for it and left, saying, 'You go home; you have seen enough.'" suspended the second time, leaving the rocks in the bed of the stream and the bridge wall disfigured with his blood. James Simmons, the oldest and the supposed leader of the gang, a very muscular and powerful man, doubtless struggled desperately, as a strong water-gate under the arch of the bridge was broken down in his efforts to secure relief.

After all was over, the perpetrators of this dark deed dispersed as quickly and as quietly as they had entered the place. In Lockport, the home of the dead, there is anguish unutterable. The news of the terrible affair reached there at noon Tuesday. Mrs. Goodrich, mother of one of the dead, and step-mother of two others, rushed into the street and poured out her sorrows in a touching and eloquent appeal to the God of Mercy. Sam Goodrich's affianced rent the heavens with her shrieks, and there are many mourners in these wild hills. To-morrow will be a sad and a glad day in Henry County.

LOUISVILLE.

The Exposition—Railroad Accident.

National Associated Press to the Star.
LOUISVILLE, Sept. 5.—The Louisville Industrial Exposition opened last night. Considering the first night and the difficulties in their hasty preparations, the managers are to be commended for the magnificent arrangements. There were about seven thousand visitors, and all were loud in their praise of the systematic manner in which everything was conducted.

Last night about 12 o'clock, while a party of ladies and gentlemen were starting out to a dance at Clarysville, Ind., from New Albany, they were overtaken by the Louisville & New Albany train. The parties all escaped by precipitating themselves down the embankment, except Miss Weisard, who seemed to have lost all presence of mind and was struck by the engine, cutting her body in two.

Pennsylvania Republican Convention.

National Associated Press to the Star.

HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 5.—Every arriving train brings additional delegates to the Republican State Convention, to be held in this city to-day, but the gathering of the clans is accompanied by no great excitement beyond the eager and active maneuverings of the partisans of the two more prominent candidates, Passmore and Reeder. The former is confident of his nomination for the Attorney Generalship and claims he will receive at least 161 votes on the first ballot, only 125 being necessary to a choice.

When the Chester County delegation arrived they gathered around Passmore and inquired to know a great deal of enthusiasm over him. It was a good effect upon the disappointed and Reeder's party say the scene was gotten up for that special purpose.

Peace Treaty—Howard's Race Depredations.

National Associated Press to the Star.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—A telegram from Fortuna says Captain Wilkinson has returned from Spokane Falls, where a council with the Northern Indians was held, lasting three days. Fourteen tribes and the thousand Indians were represented. Armies of agreement were signed accepting the reservation allotted, and renewing assurances of peace.

Howard's command is at Lower Geyser Springs. A small party of Indians killed a man at Mammoth Hot Springs and burned a bridge over the Yellowstone, near Henderson's Butte.

Accident to a Building.

National Associated Press to the Star.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 5.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon a quantity of brick and mortar on the upper floor of Lafayette Block, recently damaged by fire, broke through and fell to the ground floor, causing damage to the amount of $1,000. The falling bricks struck a party owned by L. B. Clough. One man was killed, the others, but was fortunately extricated with slight injuries. Several persons who were in the building narrowly escaped death.

Made by Goldsmith Maid.

National Associated Press to the Star.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Sept. 5.—Yesterday Goldsmith Maid tied against time at the Nashville Driving Park. The weather was very fine, and the track in excellent condition. About three thousand people were present. The three heats were trotted in 2:21, 2:19 1/2, 2:19 1/2.

LATEST LOCAL.

A RUMOR spread to-day that one of the buildings adjoining the lot on Sycamore street, between Third and F streets, which the Emory Brothers are excavating, fell down and injured several men. There was no truth in the report.

The case of John M. Dickerson against Consable Sam. Bloom, a suit in replevin to recover a diamond ring, was partially heard last evening before Squire Roweamp, and continued to the afternoon of the 11th inst.

The County Commissioners have refused to allow the bill of Drs. Brown and Williams, who, after the Peabody hospital, were detained to make a list of all buildings in the city that were exposed to fire escapes. Solicitor Paxton gave his fiat that the bill was illegal.

MR. ADAM GUNKLACH, of the firm of Burns, McKee & Baker, and his wife Barbara, last night celebrated their silver wedding by a magnificent banquet at Turner Hall. The numerous friends remained until an early hour this morning, and a delightful time was enjoyed. The presents were numerous and costly.

MRS. MARY HENDERSON, wife of Alexander Henderson, Jr., of the Cincinnati Times, died yesterday evening at half past 4 o'clock, at Pleasant Run, from dropsy. Mrs. Henderson had been sick for a long time and had been married only four years ago to Mr. Henderson. The body lies in state at the residence of her father-in-law, Mr. Henderson, and her funeral will be held at 10 o'clock to-morrow.

THE many friends of Squire Evert are justly indignant that he was beat out of the nomination in the meeting of the City Democratic Executive Committee. The Squire explains his defeat to the fact that he refused to buy the nomi-tion, and he is undoubtedly correct, as several of the Committeemen just before the balloting averred that "he was going to be bounced."

JOHN G. OLSEN, alias Smith, alias Robinson, or anything to suit his convenience, was arrested last night at the instigation of Mr. James B. Bell, who keeps a boarding-house on Longworth street, and who charges him with stealing a coat and some money from Henry Morton, one of his boarders. Shortly after his arrest the Marshal of Reading arrived and demanded the prisoner, for whom he has been searching on a charge of kidnapping, recently committed at Wyoming, and he was permitted to take him.

WILLIE RILEY slept in a cell at the Oliver-Street Station last night. While he was there, he was only nine years old. He has a face intelligent beyond his years, which may be explained in the fact that he is a regular reader of the paper published at the corner of Fourth and Race. He had no money yesterday, and no Commercial, and his precocious mind demanded its customary tool, so he stole one from Fred Leidel. "You are a bad boy, Willie, and must go to the House of Refuge," Willie never took any drawing lessons.

Abandoned.

Charles Fennell, who kept a saloon at the corner of Fifth and Mound streets, disappeared mysteriously on Monday night, and nothing has been seen of him since.

He owes $500 to his barkeeper, a large amount to L. Corman, the brewer, $200 to G. L. Weber, $24 to Kuhnman & Vorse, $350 to L. Hagomeyer, and about $6,000 to Mr. C. Aberlein, the brewer. The total amount of his debts is put at $12,000.

Announcements.

A Wholen reception will be given to the boys of the Broadway fire, at the Bellevue House, this evening. Billy's friends are out in force.

Mr. Charles H. Miller will give select readings next Friday evening in the Cincinnati Presbyterian Church for the benefit of the Church.

Hymeneal.

Twenty-three marriage licenses were taken since our report of last evening. Among them were six couples who did not for some reason or other want their names published. Of the contracting parties were a committeeman of the City Democratic Executive Committee, a well-known Squire whose office is in the lower part of the city, and a proprietor of a hotel in the vicinity of the Court-house.

The Bottle Proves Rightly.

This early morn was the time, and Liz Terrell's house the place, of an Amazonian combat.

The "handlady" was absent, and during her absence left the house in charge of one of the girls.

"Emma," a new arrival, in defiance of long-standing rules of the house, wanted to send for beer, to which Gussie objected.

It then became a question as to who was the better woman. The result, which followed soon came to a climax, and "Emma's" opponent had a clear walk over.

The housekeeper pro tem took a minute to the bottle, and beat Emma in a dreadful manner about the face so that she bled profusely, and Dr. Marcus was called in to make some stitches, as several of the wounds were long and deep.

Gussie Byers, the girl who made these stitches necessary, was arrested and placed in Central Station. She was remanded for sentence on the 13th.

Local Personal.

Senator J. E. McDonald, of Indianapolis, is in the city.

R. A. Bryan, of the Seoto Valley Railroad, is at the Walnut-street House.

R. V. Theodore Cuyler, D.D., of Brooklyn, is visiting Mr. J. B. Gibson, in this city.

Miss L. L. Copping, of this city, is the guest of her brother John R. Copping in Covington.

Mr. L. G. Sparks and Miss Laura A. Evans, both of Kentucky, were married last night at the Gibson House by Squire Thomas E. Pitt.

Arthur Heidebrandt, a rising young lawyer of this city, has departed for Brooklyn, N. Y., where he will be married this week to Miss Kate Coolidge, of that city.

Mr. Henry Mollenkamp will celebrate the thirty-second anniversary of his birthday to-morrow at his place, on Court street, just west of Walnut, among a select circle of friends.

Board of Public Works.

The Board met in regular session, this morning, Mr. Bell in the chair.

The following was adopted:
"Resolved, That the Trustees of the Southern Railroad be, and are hereby, granted permission to deposit temporarily on all an avenue bridge material upon condition that roadways outside avenue are not obstructed."

Attention was called to the obstruction of a culvert upon the Cincinnati and Warsaw Pike, and the matter referred to the Committee on Water-works.

The bill of the Globe Gas-light Company for August was approved as to account.

"Resolved, That the Cincinnati and Indianapolis Railroad Company be notified that the City of Cincinnati surrenders to that Company the lot on the corner of Pearl and Smith streets, on and after October 1, and the Supervisor is authorized to make early disposition, by sale or transfer, of the material thereon."

Hughes Hears a Man.

Two brothers-in-law (colored) got into a quarrel last night at No. 239 Longworth street.

One Hughes, a colored tunc peddler, lives at the above place, and George W. Stanton spends a great portion of his leisure time at Hughes' house, whose sister he married.

About 8 o'clock last night the men got into a difficulty, and in the scuffle a butcher-knife played a disagreeable part.

Stanton was driven from the house, but returned after a time and breaking in the door, made an attack upon Hughes, who, in self-defense, hewed his assailant, cutting him in the neck and on the hand.

Hughes also received a slight wound. At this interesting juncture officers Eggleston and Durkin appeared and arrested both hewers and lodged them in Central Station on the charge of "cutting with intent to kill."

Stanton was considered sufficiently punished and his case dismissed, but Hughes received $5 and costs this morning.

SIMPKINSON'S MONKEYS.

The Cases Against Jacob Gardner and John Simpson.

At 1 o'clock to-day the case of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals against Jacob Gardner was called up before Squire Riley.

The charge was that Gardner had suffered a horse with galled shoulders to be driven before a cart. The counsel for plaintiff asked for a continuance, which was granted. The case was set for the 13th inst.

Gardner made a statement that he wanted his son, who is only fourteen years old, dismissed, and remarked that he would kill the man who would dare to arrest him.

He said a regiment could not take his boy. The Court ordered him to sit down as there was no warrant against young Gardner.

The cases of Gardner against Mr. Simpson, on two charges, were next taken up.

The first is that Simpson did on Thursday last, the 31st inst., unlawfully and knowingly torture, to-wit: Omission by permitting the same to be taken up in a balloon and dropped in the Ohio River, the second charge being one of stern reality, inasmuch as he keeps one lot of monkeys in a cage at the Z & Z Co., and failing to furnish them with necessary sustenance or carpets to sit on, they having thereby become bare on certain portions of the body."

Gardner wanted the defendant to acknowledge the facts set forth in the affidavit or if they would not do this to bring in the monkeys. The cases were continued to the same date.

THE LONGWORTH-STREET CALAMITY.

Bad Material in Constructing the Building.

Coroner Stien conducted the inquest on the bodies of Susan Keam, John Finnigan, Charles Leighton and Hugo Quigley, the parties who were buried under the ruin of the house No. 74 Longworth street Monday evening.

Dr. E. W. Walker, of the Cincinnati Hospital, was sworn, and stated that Leighton died at half-past 5 this morning, and that his death was due to internal injuries to the abdomen. He had also a scalp wound, and was delirious while at the Hospital.

Mr. G. Dater, the owner of the fallen building, testified that he had not built the portion that fell down, but that he had bought it on August 9, 1871, from Dr. Belknap.

The Coroner's Jury visited the scene of the accident this morning, and found that the bricks of the walls had been put together by a mortar made of clay.

Mr. Clinton Hunter also testified to the above, and stated that Mr. Weizell had sent three written notices to Mr. Dater to have the building secured while the excavation was being made.

The Jury returned a verdict of death from injuries, caused by the fall of a building at No. 74 Longworth street, and we further find that the result of said accident was due to bad material used in the construction of said building.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.

Miss Effie Elliser, in her beautiful play, "A Heroine in Rags," had another large and very appreciative audience last night. The little actor and singer wins her audience at the start, and the interest and pleasure increases to the end. The support is excellent to-morrow and night.

THEODORE THOMAS AT THE HIGHLAND.
